

Anthony Rodriguez
Hip Hop

Through Eveoke, Anthony made his choreographic debut with Hip Hop is Everywhere, an exploration of hip hop movement on a global and personal note. He has also choreographed for San Diego Dance Theater's Trolley Dances (2007) and debuted the modern-hip hop fusion piece, Arrange i+n koncert, with Katie Griffin at Emerge (2009). He has also danced with local hip hop groups such as Culture Shock and kruciaal Element. He was the first recipient of San Diego Dance Theater's Young Choreographer's Prize (2010).

Anthony's first passion is teaching and is excited to be apart of Hammond Studio of Dance.
